

GUERNSEY-MUSKINGUM ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE CURRENTLY SPEAKING

MESSAGE FROM THE GENERAL MANAGER

The PURPOSE behind Labor Day

On September 4, many of us will be enjoying a day off as we celebrate Labor Day. Labor Day became a federal holiday in 1894 and is always celebrated on the first Monday in September. President Grover Cleveland signed this into law in an attempt to shore up support among trade unions after a bitter nationwide railroad strike. Canadians celebrate their Labour Day on this same date, and many other countries recognize workers on May 1. While the form of celebration that was outlined in the first proposal was a “street parade,” I am more inclined to enjoy a day at home with family.

As I have mentioned before, I was raised on a farm and have a great appreciation for physical labor (or labour, for my Canadian readers). How I ended up in an office sitting on my butt is a mystery to me.

There is something special about seeing wagons full of hay or corn. The feeling of satisfaction after repairing a damaged fence or hoeing a row of sweet corn lies in the sense of accomplishment. Let's face it: We all work primarily for the paycheck, the security, and the “stuff” that income provides for our families. However, we also work for that feeling of achievement. Sometimes the fruits of our labor are easy to see, like that load of hay. But often, we can spend the day working hard with little to show for it. The waitress or cashier cannot look back to see all of the customers he or she greeted and assisted throughout the day. The accountant simply sees one stack of papers replaced by another. Where is the satisfaction in that?

While it would be wonderful if we always loved our jobs and came whistling through the door each day, the fact is that work is not always enjoyable. We face obstacles and setbacks — tough days that make us want to grunt and grumble. Sometimes the results of a hard day's work are not apparent and even leave us feeling a bit empty. However, we must approach work with the correct attitude and effort. Work should give us a sense of purpose and accomplishment, no matter how boring or challenging the task may be. We should strive to do our best so we can be proud of a job well done.

As we celebrate Labor Day, I'd like to say thanks to all our employees and the members of GMEC whose labors have made this country great!

*Have a wonderful day!
God Bless! Jerry*

Jerry Kackley
General Manager/CEO

ASK YOUR ENERGY ADVISOR

Not all air filters are created equal

Forced air heating, ventilating, and air-conditioning (HVAC) systems require effective air filtration for optimum energy efficiency and maintaining clean(ish) ductwork and good indoor air quality. Air filters should be changed regularly, depending on a number of factors:

- Presence of pets that shed
- Amount of carpeted versus hardwood floors
- Where you live — amounts of dust, pollen, etc.
- Use of wood-burning supplemental heat sources
- Presence of cigarette smoke

The air inside our homes is full of particles originating from inside and outside sources. As the name “forced air” implies, conditioned air is blown into the house through ductwork. In order to operate efficiently, the air supplied is returned to the system for reconditioning, taking with it all the particles in the air and any “tumbleweeds” of pet hair.

This junk-laden air flows through a filter before encountering the HVAC equipment. For cooling, there is usually an A-frame arrangement of what looks like car radiators. For heating, it is generally a combustion chamber. Without a filter, the cooling coils would get clogged, and the heating side would burn off whatever was in the air.

Air filters trap a lot of debris that otherwise would end up back in the house, stuck in ductwork, clogging HVAC equipment — or in our lungs. Filters have more choices than you can imagine. Fortunately, they can be broken down into two defined categories, making the selection process manageable. The two are: permanent or disposable, and flat or pleated media (with a handy MERV rating).

Disposable are the most prevalent. Some in the flat media group look like they will stop only particles larger than a golf ball.

They have flimsy cardboard frames and a thin, flat mesh you can easily see through. While they are cheap, don't waste your money. Your HVAC system and lungs deserve better.

Pleated filters perform better. While they look impervious, air can move through under pressure, leaving its airborne cargo trapped. Pleated filters are better, in my experience.

Remember MERV? It's a rating system that tells you how effective a filter is at trapping particles (it stands for Minimum Efficiency Reporting Value). The scale runs from one to 16 (higher is better) and is based on trapping particles 3-10 microns in diameter. Research shows that filters with a MERV rating between seven and 13 are likely to be as effective as true HEPA (high-efficiency particulate arrestance) filters.

So, should you jump in and grab a supply of high MERV filters? Not without some research. All filters increase resistance to air flow. HVAC systems are designed to operate at a particular pressure and should support MERV ratings of one to four. A higher MERV value increases resistance, making the system work harder.

How do you decide which level of filter to use?

If you have your system's operating manual or can grab it online, check for recommendations. Otherwise, my advice is to go with a decent (MERV three to five) pleated filter and check it once a month to see how it is performing. Also check to see if the dust inside abates.

Spend a little more and breathe a lot easier with a regular schedule of air filter replacement. It pays big dividends.

NOTES

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Certification of Active Duty Deployment

Guernsey-Muskingum Electric Cooperative, Inc.

The cooperative will not disconnect electric service to the residential premises of any residential member who is deployed on active duty for nonpayment for electricity provided to the residential premises.

Upon return of the residential member from active duty, the cooperative will offer the residential member a period equal to at least the period of deployment on active duty to pay any arrearages incurred during the period of deployment. If the period the cooperative offers the residential member for repayment presents a hardship, the member may request a longer period to repay the arrearages. No late payment fees or interest will be charged to the residential member during the period of deployment or the repayment period.

“Active duty” means active duty pursuant to an executive order of the president of the United States, an act of the Congress of the United States, or section 5919.29 or 5923.21 of the Ohio Revised Code.

The residential member must resume the timely payment of all charges for electric service provided by the cooperative after the return from active duty deployment.

In order to avoid disconnection of electric service for nonpayment for electric service during a period of active duty deployment, a completed Certification of Active Duty Deployment form must be submitted to the cooperative. Certification of Active Duty Deployment forms are available from the cooperative upon request.

Whether you want to brush up on archery skills, learn how to make your home more energy efficient, attempt the inflatable obstacle course, enjoy decadent ice cream, or simply watch the grazing deer at the park, there's something for everyone.

Founded in 1996, the park has an education center on 130 acres, with a 3-acre pond, trails, and 15,000 square feet of pavilion space. The Deerassic Park Education Center also maintains an educational herd of deer for youth and families to view, while the main building houses a unique collection of mounted animals and artwork. Included in the collection are replicas of world-record "Beatty Buck," harvested by Mike Beatty, and the one-of-a kind "Megaloceros: Irish Elk" replica from world-renowned taxidermist Ken Walker of the enormous creature that went extinct over 10,000 years ago.

Come out and join GMEC for a day of outdoor family fun, where you can simultaneously take away a new factoid about your co-op — and take dozens of photos of your children in action. Free food, water, and ice cream will be provided.

CAPITAL CREDITS

Help GMEC find former members

Guernsey-Muskingum Electric would like your help in locating the following former members (or their heirs) who received service from the cooperative in prior years.

Capital credits refund checks were mailed to former members listed in this Ohio Cooperative Living issue. These checks have not yet cleared the bank or have been returned to Guernsey-Muskingum as “undeliverable.”

If you have information on any of the names in the Capital Credits Refund Listing, please call the cooperative office at either of the numbers listed below.

GMEC is aware that many of the former members listed are deceased. However, we are looking for surviving family members who are eligible to receive the capital credits check. Thank you for your help.

GUERNSEY-MUSKINGUM ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE CURRENTLY SPEAKING

Energy Efficiency Tips of the Month

September is a good time to start preparing for the winter heating season.

1. Seal any known leaks with foam or caulk.
2. Re-weather strip doors or windows in need.
3. Make sure all windows are closed and locked.
4. Have your heating system tuned up before you need it.
5. Wrap any water lines that could freeze.

OFFICIAL NOTICE MEDICAL CERTIFICATION

Medical certification forms are available upon request at the Guernsey-Muskingum Electric Cooperative, Inc. office for those persons who must certify that disconnection of electric service would make the operation of necessary medical equipment impossible or impracticable, or that such discontinuation of electric service would otherwise be dangerous to the health and welfare of persons residing in the household.

In all cases where discontinuation of service would be especially dangerous to the life and welfare of the occupants within a household, the consumer should contact the cooperative and request a "Medical Certification" form. This form must then be completed and certified by a licensed physician or local board of health and filed with the cooperative.

Is your name/account number listed here?

If so, call GMEC's office and receive a free home change-out to compact fluorescent light (CFL) bulbs (limit of six bulbs). Thanks for reading the GMEC local pages of Ohio Cooperative Living.
